In This Issue

Greetings from the Editor ................................................................. 1
Fall 2005 Instructional Forum Call for Articles ............................ 1
Making Learning Meaningful .............................................................. 2
Departmental Critical Thinking Liaisons for the Year of Critical Thinking ................................. 3
Critical Thinking in Distance Learning: the Examination of a Forensic Science Course .................. 5
The Social Graces of Critical Thinkers ........................................... 9
Café Offers Forum for Scholarly Endeavors .................................... 10
Questioning Strategies to Enhance Student Learning .................. 12
Reflecting On the Past, Looking Forward to the Future ............... 14
A Tribute to Z .................................................................................... 15
Retirement ......................................................................................... 21
Happy Retirement ............................................................................. 22
Sue, Thank You for the Instructional Forums ............................... 22
PGCC Students Receive Top National Honors .............................. 23
Congratulations to Spring '05 Pathfinder Grant Recipients ........... 24
Search It Swifter, Find It Faster: An Enhancement to the Library's Online Catalog ................... 25
Correction .......................................................................................... 26
A Few Good Words ........................................................................... 27
Looking Ahead .................................................................................. 28